問題V 次の文章について設問に答えよ。解答番号は ~

There are no Olympic running races as long as the marathon. It is one of the events for athletes. The fastest time to finish was just over 2 hours. However, one man ran much more slowly that. In the 1912 Stockholm Olympics, a Japanese runner, Shiso Kanakuri, began the marathon race along with the competitors. He didn't finish the race until 54 years, 8 months, 6 days, and 8 hours later! After for a short while, he became exhausted and sick and had to give up. He was very ashamed¹ not to finish, so he went back to Japan telling the race officials what happened. They thought he and listed him as a missing person. However, 54 years later, a journalist, while researching a story about the Olympics, found him living in Japan and invited him to the marathon. At the age of 75, he finished the race. He now holds the record of being the slowest marathon runner ever.
